Freelancer.com surpasses half a million outsourcing projects

Sydney, November 09th 2009: Freelancer™, formerly known as GetAFreelancer, the world's top freelance jobs micro-outsourcing marketplace, today announced that over 500,000 freelance jobs have been posted to date through the website.

“Our growth in job postings has been phenomenal”, said Matt Barrie, Chief Executive of Freelancer. “We are proud to have connected so many employers with freelance service providers from around the world.”

Freelancer connects over one million employers and freelancers globally. Through our website, employers can hire freelancers to do work in areas such as software, writing, data entry and design right through to engineering and the sciences, sales and marketing, and accounting & legal services. Freelancer is the leader in the micro-outsourcing market, with the average job size being under US$200. This is extremely cost effective for small businesses, which often need a wide variety of jobs to be done, but cannot justify the expense of hiring full time.

Some of the recent jobs include the design of an outdoor restaurant (38 bids, average bid US$201), an iPhone application for streaming videos (average bid US$610), and corporate identity development which included logo design, leaflet and a simple website for a weddings business (24 bids, average bid US$217).

Over 500,000 jobs have been posted to date, for a sum of over US$45 million.
