Freelancer.com adds Vietnamese Dong to supported currencies

VIETNAM, November 2, 2016, -- Freelancer.com has added the Vietnamese Dong (VND) as one of its 22 supported currencies. This allows over 200,000 Vietnamese freelancers, employers and businesses on Freelancer.com, to use the native currency for payments on the site.

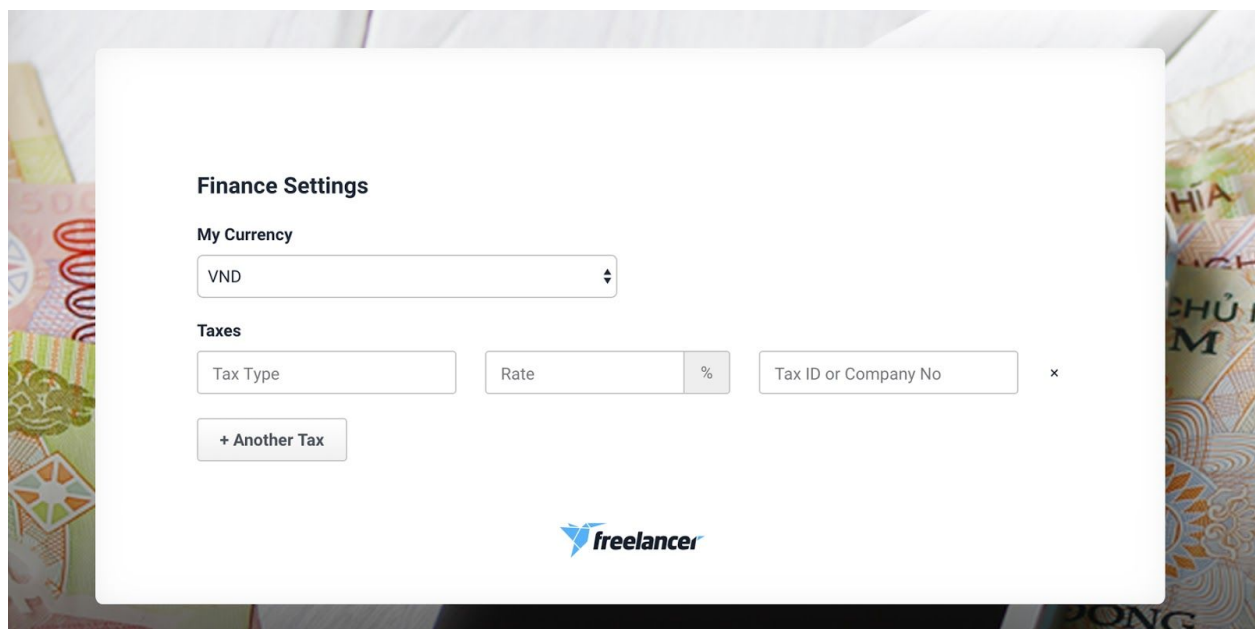

This recent development is aligned with Freelancer.com's vision to provide a seamless transaction between businesses and freelancers around the world. Vietnamese employers can now conveniently use the Vietnamese Dong to pay local freelancers and even those hired from other countries -- among the top five countries Vietnamese employers hire overseas freelancers from being India, Pakistan, United States, Bangladesh and China.

Furthermore, Vietnamese freelancers can now withdraw funds in their local currency to their bank accounts using Express Withdrawals.

“Vietnam is one of the fastest growing countries in number of users in Southeast Asia on Freelancer.com and a really important market for us in the region,” says Matt Barrie, Chief Executive Office of Freelancer.com. “We want all our users in Vietnam, and even more Vietnamese professionals and small businesses to have the most convenient experience on the site.”

The Vietnamese Dong joins other Freelancer.com-supported currencies, such as the US Dollar, Euro, Pound, Singapore Dollar, Indian Rupee, Philippine Peso, Indonesian Rupiah, Malaysian Ringgit and Chinese Yuan.
